

ALL IN or ALL GONE

PROTECT YOUR FARM.
PROTECT YOUR LIVELIHOOD.

#4

You're ALL IN but are your workers and family?

Anyone working on your poultry farm should be as knowledgeable about biosecurity as you are.

Have you sat down with EVERYONE who works in your poultry houses to educate them about the threat of avian influenza and the importance of biosecurity on your poultry farm?

Better yet, have you demonstrated it for them and followed through by making sure that they are implementing your biosecurity plan EVERY SINGLE TIME?

Out of the hundreds of entries into your poultry houses that are likely to happen this fall, it only takes one biosecurity failure to bring avian influenza into your flocks.

This goes for your children too. And don't forget your furry family members. Dogs have no business in a poultry house!

ALL IN means EVERYBODY. Please make sure your workers and family are ALL IN and educated about how biosecurity practices can PROTECT YOUR FARM and PROTECT YOUR LIVELIHOOD.
